KAYAK FEATURES

FOOTPEGS
We've mounted our sturdy pegs on newly designed rails that permit smoother operation. A clever release mechanism lets you adjust with your feet.

FLOTATION
Inflatable bags or foam, depending on the boat you buy, are a critical safety component of your kayak. Law doesn't require us to include flotation; our conscience does.

RUDDER
A larger cam makes ours easy to engage, and fewer moving parts make it far less likely to give you problems.

SEATS
Almost all of our boats come standard with our new, patent-pending Phase³ Outfitting. The three-way, shift-on-the-fly adjustability of this breakthrough design gives you total support and comfort.

SEE BACK PANEL

HATCHES
Your gear goes here. We employ the best available technology for protecting it.

HANDLES
A handle is a handle, right? Wrong. Ours form-fit your hands, which you'll appreciate on long hikes back to the car.

This Isn't a Sales Job. This Is About Your Head, Your Heart and, Yes, Your Derriere.

You could slash the water in a half-ton of glittered fiberglass and screaming outboard. But that's not really you. The powerboat can't take you to the place you're going. We believe that makes you different, and vital to a world that's a little cleaner, a little quieter, a little, well, better. Your reward should be a perfect paddling experience, made possible by our new Phase³™ Outfitting, the latest in more than 15 years of innovation from Wilderness Systems.

Phase³™ will change the way you, your back, your thighs and your fanny feel about kayaking. Perhaps it will help keep you on the water a little longer, energize you to go farther and discover more – about the environment, about yourself.

Our goal is to grow this sport by making the Wilderness Systems experience more comfortable and more satisfying than any other. Who knows? Maybe someday the powerboats will be in the minority.

Phase³, our patent-pending, adjustable outfitting lets you fit the boat to your body, and re-fit without landing and exiting the boat. Raise and lower the seat-back height, recline, raise and lower the thigh support. Adjust on the fly to relieve fatigue or to snug yourself in for carving turns or rolling. Phase³ represents the ultimate in control and comfort.
